SCHOONER JAMES ROLPH.

San Francisco, July 17 - The James Rolph is the latest and handsomest addition to the sugar fleet. She sails today for Port Blakeley to load lumber for San P-dro, making three trips, and will then go into the sugar trade, for which she was built.

It is doubtful whether there will be vessels enough to handle next year's sugar crop. About a dozen new boats have been launched and nearly the same number are under way, but as it is estimated that there will be 400,000 tons of sugar to move they will not relieve the And Paper Hanger. situation a great deal. The James 133 Nuuanu Avenue, Honolulu, H. I. Rolph will do her best to help out matters, however. She is 169 feet 1 inch long, 37 feet 9 inches beam, and 12 feet 8 inches draft. James Rolph Jr. of the firm of Hind, Rolph & Co. is the managing owner and the vessel is named after his father. She was launched from Bendixsen's yards in Eureka and christened by Miss Anna M Reid. The James Rolph will be commanded by Captain F A Dedrick.

THE H. D. BENDIXSEN.

San Francisco, July 20 — The new schooner H D Bendixsen is now out thirty-six days from Honolulu and should reach port at any hour. All the vessels of the sugar fleet have been making long passages and the chances are that the Bendixsen has been delayed by light winds and calms.

Vessels that left the islands a long time after the schooner are beginning to arrive, and their captains report good sailing weather, so the Bendixsen should follow them into port. The bark S C Allen came up in seventeen days and the barkentine S N Castle in twenty-one days. The bark ntine Wrestler is, however, out twenty-seven days from Kahului.
